THE POWER OF POSITIVE SELF TALK: Recently my daughter attended a school reunion. She had studied in that school only for her last one and a half years, but her classmates invited her and coaxed her to join in. After returning she said it was great fun, adding that many of them had changed in looks. Naturally, they reminisced a great deal, recalling both good and not-so-good incidents. Sadly, many unpleasant occurrences involved teachers. Very few of them had been kind and had given loving guidance; many were unnecessarily harsh.

They even refused to accept genuine excuses and explanations. On one occasion, two friends, good in different subjects, exchanged answers, thinking it was a sign of friendship, but were accused of cheating. Their parents were called and they were punished both in school and at home. Others were publicly humiliated and sent out of class. Suffice it to say, that they had good words for only one teacher.

Both as a former teacher and as a grown-up, my daughter's words left me deeply thoughtful. We hardly realise that children are very impressionable and our words can influence them deeply. Words are more powerful than perhaps any one suspects and once engraved in a child's mind are not easily erased. We, as adults and especially teachers, live in our own world of impeccable behaviour and adopt attitudes that are demanding. We often forget that children look up to us and have impressionable minds. Harsh punishments and too many silent treatments can harm. Many become diminished and even feel worthless because of these powerful memories. Criticism, even if it seems accurate and deserved, affects one's self-worth and moulds the outlook on life. We become critical and are not pleased with the success of others.

There is no need to despair though. We are, both children and adults, in control of our thoughts and attitudes. The good news is that every one of us can shake off all feelings of inferiority. We can replace it with positive self-talk. But this takes practice and dedication.

This means positive reinforcement every time we feel depressed. Each of us is a worthwhile person, because everyone possesses some extraordinary talent and everyone's contribution is both precious and necessary!

To be jailed for posting wolf's AI image

Seoul: A South Korean man could spend up to five years behind bars and paying a fine of $6,700 for creating a realistic image of a wolf prowling through the streets of Daejeon, a city in central South Korea.

South Korean media reported that a wolf named Neukgu had escaped from the Daejeon Zoo and some even posted a photo of the canine spotted on the streets of Daejeon. It looked real, but that photo had been created by AI, based on a prompt.

South Korean authorities explained that "a single AI-manipulated image delayed the wolf's capture by up to nine days" and that "the prolonged deployment of Police and firefighters caused significant disruptions to their primary duty of protecting the public."

After being tracked down, the 40-year-old man responsible for creating the AI photo of a wolf in Daejeon casually said that he had done it "for fun".

Helicopter complicates drop-off

Tennessee: Buses and cars arriving at a Tennessee elementary school on Thursday morning had to work around an unusual obstacle in the parking lot -- a helicopter.

The Cheatham County School District said on social media that the helicopter was reported in the parking lot at West Cheatham Elementary School early Thursday morning.

The Cheatham County Sheriff's Office explained the medical helicopter's tail rotor collided with an empty gurney during take-off, damaging the rotor and forcing the crew to make an emergency landing. The school parking lot was the best spot that could be quickly identified.

A second medical helicopter was called to the scene to take the patient to the hospital.

Trading fraud: Man loses Rs. 17 lakh

Mysuru, May 3 (GA&BCT)- A Mysuru resident has been duped of Rs. 17.10 lakh in a well-planned online trading scam.

The fraud was carried out through fake investment platforms and was coordinated by multiple individuals. A case has been registered at the City's Cyber Crime, Economic Offences and Narcotics (CEN) Police Station.

According to the Police, the victim (name withheld to protect identity) was initially influenced by some of his friends to invest in online trading through a private firm.

Believing them, he began with small investments and was able to withdraw some returns, which helped build his trust in the platform.

However, on Dec. 16, 2025, one of his friends contacted him over WhatsApp, claiming that the company in which he had invested money was not functioning properly and was cheating customers.

The friend then introduced him to another person, who advised the victim to withdraw Rs. 4.23 lakh from the existing account and shift his investment to a different trading platform. Trusting the advice, the victim complied.

Books sharpen imagination, says former ISRO Chief

Mysuru, May 3 (SPN&DM)- Stating that reading books will help in increasing our power of imagination, former ISRO Chairman A.S. Kiran Kumar said that reading will also help increase our analysing capability of subjects or matters.

He was speaking at the programme organised by JSS Mahavidyapeetha for the release of five books at Shivarathri Rajendra Bhavan in JSS Hospital premises here yesterday.

Pointing out that we will understand the books as we read, Kiran Kumar said the picture in the visual media is different as we grasp the subject from pictures and visuals created by others. This will not help in the growth of our creativity, he observed.

"In the battle between Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Real Intelligence, Real Intelligence has more value. The Knowledge within us should not be made submissive to AI, which is external in nature. Department of Public Libraries Commissioner G. Jagadish, who spoke after releasing the books said that though the number of readers was gradually decreasing, reading habits can see a marked improvement if people are provided the books of their taste. Those who are fed up or tired of mobile usage, should return to books, he argued.

Stressing on the need for new measures to build a library that are of real benefit to the public, Jagadish said inputs regarding this has been collected from officials and staff. Noting that the Department is collecting data on popular books and the type of books that are borrowed by the readers, he said that the Department has come forward to buy books that are most sought after by the readers and the public.

Kannada Book Authority Chairman Manasa in his address, said that reading books will flush out the filth in our mind. It will also help in keeping a check on physical ailments, he added.

Five books released are — 'Mysuru Prajapratinidhi Sabha-Charitrika Avalokana' (Edited by Dr. N. Maheshwari), 'Channabasavannanavara Vachana Vyakhyana' (Siddarameshwara Beldala Sharanaru - Edited by Dr. G.S. Implement TDR in Mysuru: NAREDCO

Mysuru, May 3 (VVH&BCT)- The State Government's Transferable Development Rights (TDR) scheme offers land owners development rights in place of direct monetary compensation, said M.C. Shashikumar, Additional Director of the Department of Urban and Rural Planning.

He was speaking at an awareness programme on TDR and buffer zones, organised by the National Real Estate Development Council (NAREDCO) in city yesterday.

Shashikumar said that the scheme, introduced in 2006, is already being implemented in Bengaluru and Mangaluru and is aimed at facilitating urban expansion without heavy expenditure on land acquisition.

"Under TDR, land can be secured for projects such as road widening and formation of new layouts, while land owners are compensated with development rights that can be used elsewhere or transferred," he explained.

Describing TDR as a practical

Additional Director of the Department of Urban and Rural Planning M.C. Shashikumar inaugurating the awareness programme on TDR and buffer zones organised by National Real Estate Development Council (NAREDCO) in city yesterday, as others look on.

tool for planned urban growth, he said it complements master plans and helps cities expand in a structured manner.

Highlighting the planning scenario in Karnataka, he said the State has 332 Urban Local Bodies, of which 176 have approved master plans. While 108 are yet to be identified as planning areas, 41 towns still require preparation of master plans.

Referring to Mysuru, he said the City Improvement Trust Board (CITB) has played a key role in implementing the master plan, enabling systematic development. Proposals have been submitted for widening 100 major roads in the city.

He also suggested that Mysuru should move towards vertical development instead of expanding horizontally through new layouts.

NAREDCO Mysuru Vice - President A.P. Nagesh said a resolution has been passed urging the Government to implement the TDR scheme in Mysuru on the lines of Bengaluru and Mangaluru.

Plastic-free zone or plastic dump yard?

A wake-up call for Chamundi Hill area

Sir,

Even as the forest area around Chamundi Hill has been declared a 'plastic-free zone', the ground reality along the Chamundi Hill Main Road presents a stark contrast.

Stretches on both sides of the road, including those passing through forest areas, are strewn with plastic waste (empty water bottles, carry bags, disposable plates and spoons), marring the landscape.

Chamundi Hill is not just a tourist spot but a place of deep spiritual significance, revered as the abode of Goddess Chamundi, the guardian deity of Mysuru. The prevailing neglect and pollution stand in sharp contrast to its sanctity and natural beauty.

While environmental awareness campaigns across the world emphasise the simple practice of carrying back one's waste, such civic responsibility is often missing here, with littering continuing unchecked.

Though several service organisations conduct periodic clean-up drives, their efforts are undermined by the steady flow of waste left behind by visitors.

There is an urgent need for both public awareness and stricter enforcement.

Authorities must step up action against offenders, including imposing fines, to curb irresponsible behaviour.

Preserving the ecological and spiritual integrity of Chamundi Hill is a shared responsibility and calls for greater awareness, discipline and respect from all stakeholders.

Kharge also eyeing CM's post: B.Y. Vijayendra

State BJP President B.Y. Vijayendra seeking blessings of Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji at Suttur Mutt in city yesterday as City BJP President L. Nagendra, District President K.N. Subbanna and other party leaders look on.

Mysuru, May 3 (BLU&DM)- As there seems to be no end to the power struggle between Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his Deputy D.K. Shivakumar over the CM's post, State BJP President and MLA B.Y. Vijayendra said that AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge seems to have put in his towel too, going by his statement that the date of change of leadership has not yet been decided.

Speaking to media persons after seeking the blessings of Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji in Suttur Mutt at the foot of Chamundi Hill here yesterday, Vijayendra maintained that Kharge's statement is an indicator that he too is in the race for the CM's chair, for which post Siddaramaiah and D.K. Shivakumar have continued their tussle.

Charging that the State Government is riddled with corruption, Vijayendra said the Siddaramaiah-led Government seems to have lost humanity, with people struggling with their daily life like never before, with water bodies getting dried up faster due to soaring temperatures and cattle and other livestock dying for want of water and fodder.

Asserting that the Congress was going to lose both Davangere South and Bagalkot Assembly by-polls, he said that the Government must wake up at least after the by-election results.

'B.S. Yediyurappa Abhimanotsava' on May 9

Vijayendra said that 'B.S. Yediyurappa Abhimanotsava,' marking 50 years of politics and struggles of former CM B.S. Yediyurappa, will be held at Chitradurga on May 9.

Pointing out that he has invited Suttur Seer for the event, he said as many as 10 lakh people from across the State are expected to attend. Top BJP leaders including Union Home Minister Amit Shah will take part, he said adding that Seers from various mutts will be part of the event.

City BJP President L. Nagendra, District President K.N. Subbanna, leaders L.R. Mahadevaswamy, Advocate S. Arun Kumar and others were present.

A first in the State... Paperless registration on in Chamarajanagar

Inspector-General of Registration and Commissioner of Stamps Mullai Muhilan launched paperless registration of properties initiative at Chamarajanagar Sub-Registrar's Office recently as other officials look on.

Chamarajanagar, May 3 (SS&DM)- In a first such initiative in the State, Inspector General of Registration and Commissioner of Stamps M.P. Mullai Muhilan launched the paperless registration of properties at Chamarajanagar Sub-Registrar's Office, located in Taluk Office premises here recently.

Speaking on the occasion, Mullai Muhilan said that the pilot project is implemented in Chamarajanagar, a first in the State. "The initiative will be expanded throughout the State after taking note of the pros and cons," he added.

"Kaveri 2.0 software that is currently in use in the Department of Registration and Stamps since 2023, has been updated to facilitate paperless registration of properties. This initiative completely eliminates creation of fake documents/records and registration of fake records," he pointed out.

Continuing, Muhilan said from now on, property records of the public will no longer be physical in nature and will be available only in the digital format. There will be no need to present documents/records in physical form to banks or other institutions for availing loans or for any other transactions.

Asserting that the initiative facilitates quick and easy availability of records via online, Muhilan said every process will be transparent in this new initiative.

Assistant Inspector General of Registration H.L. Prabhakara, Chamarajanagar district Registrar C. Kiran, Mandya district Registrar S. Siddesh and others were present.

Online trading fraud

Multiple transactions

The fraud escalated from Jan. 1, 2026, when the victim was asked via WhatsApp to share personal details, including his Aadhaar Number, PAN, photograph and bank account information.

He was then instructed to deposit Rs. 1.80 lakh into an Axis Bank account. Between Jan. 4 and Feb. 11, he transferred an additional Rs. 9.60 lakh in multiple transactions. Subsequently, the accused told him he needed to pay taxes to withdraw his profits. Believing this, the victim transferred a further Rs. 5.70 lakh through bank transfers and UPI payments. The fraudulent demands continued in March. On Mar. 12, he was instructed to transfer Rs. 50,000 to one account and then route it to another. The next day, he sent Rs. 45,000 under similar directions.

On Mar. 14, he was invited to join a 'Zoom' meeting, where the fraudsters discussed withdrawing his investments and profits, further convincing him of the scheme's legitimacy.

Fraud discovery

The scam came to light on Mar. 16, when the victim received a message stating that Rs. 95,000 in his ICICI Bank account had been placed under lien (legal claim or right). When he approached the bank on Mar. 18, bank officials informed him that the lien had been marked by the Police.

He immediately contacted the National Cyber Crime Helpline (1930) and was informed that a case had already been registered in this regard at HSR Layout Police Station in Bengaluru.

He later visited the Cyber Police Station in Bengaluru on Mar. 24 and was issued a notice to appear on Apr. 27. During the inquiry, it was confirmed that he had fallen victim to an elaborate fake trading scam. Following this, the victim lodged a complaint at CEN Police Station in Mysuru. Police are investigating.

Close DGF outlets: JDS

Mysuru, May 3 (VNS)- JD(S) leaders have demanded the Police to ensure justice is served for the customers who have been allegedly cheated by DGF Gold Company in the city .

Extending their support to the customers, who had staged protest in front of City Police Commissioner's office recently demanding action against DGF Gold Company owner Sounder Raj alias Chinnatambi, who is presently arrested, JD(S) State Working President Sa.Ra. Mahesh, MLC C.N. Manjegowda and JD(S) District President Ashwin Kumar met DCP (Law and Order) Harsha Priyamvada yesterday at her office in Nazarbad and demanded action against Sounder Raj.

Sa.Ra. Mahesh said that more than 40 women, who had been cheated, had met Union Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy seeking justice and the return of their gold jewellery pledged with DGF Gold Company. He also warned the Police of intensifying their protest on being negligent over the issue.

Sa.Ra. Mahesh said that the Police apart from arresting Sounder Raj for cheating customers of crores of rupees with a promise to provide loans for lesser interest rate, must also initiate measures for the return of gold to the original owners.

The leaders also urged DCP Harsha Priyamvada to initiate measures for the closure of DGF Gold outlets in the city.

Sa.Ra. Mahesh also questioned the Police that despite such cases being reported frequently and complaints being filed against Chinnatambi last month, why was no action taken against the accused?

"Soon after an FIR is registered, Chinnatambi gets released on bail and continues with his business of cheating people by opening a new outlet. There needs to be an action initiated to restrain him from continuing with his business," he added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Beltane

Pronunciation: BEL-tayn (Noun)
Meaning: Beltane refers to the Celtic May Day festival.
Origin: To the ancient Celts, May Day marked the start of summer, and a critical time when the boundaries between the human and supernatural worlds were removed, requiring that people take special measures to protect themselves against enchantments. The Beltane fire festival originated in a summer ritual in which cattle were herded between two huge bonfires to protect them from evil and disease. The word Beltane has been used in English since the 15th century, but the earliest known instance of the word in print — as well as the description of that summer ritual— appears in an Irish glossary commonly attributed to Cormac, a king and bishop who lived in the south of Ireland near the end of the first millennium.
Example: "On May 1, we celebrate what began as the ancient Celtic holiday of Beltane. ...It started at sundown April 30, when, according to Celtic lore, the evil spirits that had wreaked havoc on humans since Halloween had a last fling before the dawning of May 1 cast them into their annual six-month exile. The night of April 30 is still celebrated, especially abroad, with bonfires and revelry." —Deane Morrison, The Owatonna (Minnesota) People's Press, 26 Mar. 2026.

THE ODD WORD

Banteng

Wild ox of Southeast Asia.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Hell in a Handbasket

Meaning: When you say things are going to 'Hell In A Handbasket' you mean that a situation is rapidly deteriorating or that you are set firmly on a course for disaster.
Origin: The origin of the phrase 'hell in a handbasket' can be found in the practice of capturing the heads of guillotine victims in a basket, with the presumption being that these criminals would be going straight to hell for their crimes. Although the phrase is thought to have originated sometime during the 18th century, the first printed example is found in Winslow Ayer's book on the American Civil War, The Great North-Western Conspiracy.
Example: "How's work going?" Answer: "Horrible. Everything's going to hell in a handbasket."
